The prices in the table include payments for the sale of the TACHO•API service with the Partner's brand.

1. The partner is obliged to pay for the TACHO•API service for each calendar month in accordance with the appropriate price list, depending on the type of service and hosting model (the Partner or Infolab hosting model), and the number of activated vehicles. The amount of remuneration is a product of the unit rate and the number of vehicles activated in a given calendar month.
2. Infolab charges fees for the calendar month in which the data of activated vehicles / drivers appear in summary report . The report is created by Infolab Ltd.
3. If the service is not provided for reasons attributable to Infolab, the Partner is entitled to a compensation of 1/30 of the invoice value for each day of delay in the operation of the analytical application. The compensation will be settled with an invoice correction for the period in which the lack of system operation occurred. Infolab is obliged to issue a correction at the latest on the day of issuing the next invoice for the service.
